enPower.life SDGs Footprint

By: Thomas, Frank, Behzad Aghababazadeh

While we are going to make a win-win opportunity for our investors and end-users we also care about sustainability and environment. But before we speak about our story on sustainability and how we want to tackle its challenges, let's review what UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) are?

The United Nations (UN) Sustainable Development Goals , also known as The 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, is a set of 17 Global Goals, 169 associated targets, and 230 individual indicators. This international collaboration between 193 UN Member States and global organizations and agencies is outlined in the UN Resolution A/RES/70/1 established in September 2015.

To foster long-term success, companies should seamlessly blend their social and environmental performance into their business models, where we as enPower.life have already done this from beginning to meet sustainability goals. enPower.life is hardwired to invest in 3P bottom line: People, Planet, and Profit. Sustainability efforts play a big role in how we do that. It's also one of the ways we create winning customer experiences. Plus, the enPower.life's Assessment provides a great toolkit

“Energy is the golden thread that connects economic growth, increased social equity, and an environment that allows the world to thrive.”

UN former Secretary-General
Ban Ki-moon

for continuously improving upon these goals over time. enPower.life use the a self-designed Impact Assessment to audit our social and environmental impact on a project basis as well as a company wide assessment every three years. This gives us a flexible roadmap for building a better business that, conveniently, is aligned with the SDGs. We use its principles to guide our decision making on everything from the clients we pursue to how we generate profit and support ongoing philanthropic efforts. Then we do what our resources can support over time. Following is a summary of how enPower.life's activities aligns with the SDGs but we will discuss each goal separately in detail within the next issues:

enPower.life provides access to reliable and affordable energy as well as reduces green house gas emissions, through responsible and efficient resources.

The user of the energy will be a part of the local communities and SMEs, hospitals, healthcare and schools will benefit from Rural electrification.

Improve quality of life to people and women empowerment helps a sustainable grows of local economy development by creating local of jobs.

We are an essential contributor to development-aid process & climate conservation concerns. All activities has to be aligned with the SDGs.

You will also hear about our SDG footprint calculator further in next issue. to be continued in next issues>>

“Climate change knows no borders. It will not stop before the Pacific islands and the whole of the international community here has to shoulder a responsibility to bring about a sustainable development.”

Chancellor of Germany
